

Prepositional Phrases - At, By, For and To (4)

Please choose the most appropriate answer for each sentence.

Q1 Thomas got a speeding ticket because he was caught traveling ..... a rate of high speed by a police officer.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q2 I got that sweater ..... a discount last week because I used a coupon I got in the mail.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q3 ..... that end, we will all work harder to increase our profit margins this year.

- A At                                      B For                                      C By                                      D To

Q4 ..... the outset, this program was flawed. Now, let's go back to the beginning and fix it.

- A At                                      B For                                      C By                                      D To

Q5 Our neighbors left their four-year-old son all ..... himself at home last week. A social worker has now been assigned to the case.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q6 They fell in love ..... first sight. That is the tale of Romeo and Juliet.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q7 Norman is ..... a disadvantage because he is disabled so he has to work extra hard at this job to make up for it.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q8 People often say that you have to take one day ..... a time when times are tough.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q9 Do you know Karen ..... chance? I thought she worked here last year but I may be mistaken.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

Q10 You have to work hard ..... the good of society. We should all try to be productive members and we will succeed.

- A at                                      B for                                      C by                                      D to

ANSWERS: Prepositional Phrases - At, By, For and To (4)

Q1 Thomas got a speeding ticket because he was caught traveling ..... a rate of high speed by a police officer.

A at

Q2 I got that sweater ..... a discount last week because I used a coupon I got in the mail.

A at

Q3 ..... that end, we will all work harder to increase our profit margins this year.

D To

Q4 ..... the outset, this program was flawed. Now, let's go back to the beginning and fix it.

A At

Q5 Our neighbors left their four-year-old son all ..... himself at home last week. A social worker has now been assigned to the case.

C by

Q6 They fell in love ..... first sight. That is the tale of Romeo and Juliet.

A at

Q7 Norman is ..... a disadvantage because he is disabled so he has to work extra hard at this job to make up for it.

A at

Q8 People often say that you have to take one day ..... a time when times are tough.

A at

Q9 Do you know Karen ..... chance? I thought she worked here last year but I may be mistaken.

C by

Q10 You have to work hard ..... the good of society. We should all try to be productive members and we will succeed.

B for